

CRISWELL PREDICTS

An Accurate Glimpse of the Future

I PREDICT A Federal report on the number of American students and younger tourists now languishing in foreign jails, will ask government aid on their drug and narcotic convictions. Foreign countries take a dim view of drugs, and many of those now in foreign jails are not only users but also pushers. Although many are of wealthy and influential families, they will remain in jail like all the other students and tourists. A recent estimate numbering over 100,000 has been whittled down. No nation is so far on narcotic arrests and convictions as America.

Cremation

I predict that it will soon be possible for you to carry a portion of ashes from the cremation of a loved one, in a tiny glitzy ring or earrings, a watch or a bracelet. Cremation is becoming economically feasible in many places where burial is no longer exorbitant. This Old World custom will soon find new life here in the United States. I predict that a new liberal ruling by the Supreme Court no longer permit any damns to be collected for death as are all terminal cases. This will aid the medical profession which need no longer worry about practice suits that result from death. Also in some cases of accidents on the highway . . . I predict that the death penalty will be abolished due to the mounting evidence which is a deterrent. England will move that even the most heinous crime against the Crown will be punishable by the death penalty.

SHADOWS ON THE HORIZON

I predict that shadows on the horizon will soon show as the United States and China will evolve into a communist bloc which will move into other nations in Asia despite what they may promise. Their monetary banking systems out of their own borders will match perfectly. The new foreign trade pact will be a duplicate of others. The Red China fleet and the Red Russian fleet will make a propaganda voyage around the world. This will keep the smaller nations in line in Africa, South America and the Middle East. (2) The flood of new imports from Japan. Each and every item we now market as American made will be duplicated and be more durable. From radios and television sets to the heavier electric ice boxes, freezers and electric snows. These new brightly colored items will make a huge dent in our local manufactured items. (3) The booming stock market. The bumper crops of grains, fruits and vegetables, all spell a healthier economy. With food prices much lower by mid-year. (4) The new fashions in both men's and women's wear, in the new imported materials, the electric colors and the sharper cuts, will spell prosperity for the clothing manufacturers and merchants. (5) The simplified teaching in our public schools, where the fancy frills will be cut out, and the basic arithmetic, spelling, typing, reading, bookkeeping and elementary business will be the mode of education soon.

THE NEW REVOLV—I predict that all dog owners will face a personal battle with their beloved dogs. News out of every town tells that they are being discriminated against, and are classified as second class citizens under the pedigree system. These unpedigreed dogs, who outnumber the so-called pedigreed dogs, will demand an AKC (American Kennel Club) junior arrangement, or better still, have a better organization of their own. One of our largest dog food companies will take it upon themselves to register and to issue a pound paper, making every dog a pedigreed dog even though the parenthood was careless. Many unpedigreed dogs feel this situation unbearable today.

STORMY WEATHER—I predict that the good people of Canada can expect stormy weather, for that is just what they are going to get. The weather cycle grows in intensity every year to the 33-year cycle, and this is the 22nd year. Winds, rains, floods, blizzards, avalanches and record snow falls will plague the Canadian areas. So prepare, my friends, for stormy weather.

CURTAIN GOING UP—I predict that the curtain going up on many new exciting touring stage productions will delight you. New personalities such as the new sensational singer Pauline out of Las Vegas and Sarah James out of New Orleans will electrify the industry. A new trend in life-size puppets in flashy production films. A new film which permits the performers to change places with themselves on the screen.

THE BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE—I predict that the new organization, "The Beautiful People" will be the answer for many citizens all over the nation. This organization out of the Plaza hotel in Hollywood will personally arrange for its members a new happy social life. Michael Stack, known for his TV and movie roles, heads the group which is non-political and non-denominational, only concentrating on making each individual member a happy one.

ROCKING CHAIR GOSSIP—The Hollywood colony will be much amused and shocked over the epitaph which is to go on a very famous star's grave (he is now aging rapidly) which reads "Thank God I died an atheist." His family is outraged, but the stone is already cut to be put into place. I predict this funeral will be one of the most discussed this year . . . I predict that a new suit will be filed for libel against a British columnist who slanders famous stars. This known alcoholic and his very bitter criticism will be brought to trial and will not win. I predict that the unsolved Black Dahlia murder of the 1940s will become a top motion picture hit and will result in the solution of this infamous Hollywood crime . . . I predict that a very famous social boss, who has taken to the bottle, will face voice proceedings by of one month. His corolla bottle never talks. His youthful bride does predict that a very large fortune will be pledged in divorce and the said cats for brutal permentation.

GREETING CARDS

In the last five years greeting card sales increased an average of 100 percent each year.
